

Colors

Love is a rainbow hue,
the color of two halves blending.

Love is a brilliant star white, outshone by the light of your smile.

Love is a light emerald,
pale as the waking of our springtime.

Love is a royal purple,
majestic as our pride in each other.

Love is a vivid orange,
reflecting the fires inside us.

Love is a golden yellow,
showing the wealth gained by sharing.

Love is the softest of lavenders,
nowhere near as soft as your touch.

Love is a crimson red,
red as blood spilled of any that would hurt you.

Love is a deadly green,
showing through his jealous eyes.

Love is the deepest blue,
as blue as the sorrow of our last parting.

Love is midnight black,
as dark as my life without your love!
